Spring Tune Up

With the first quarter of the year behind us, now is a good time to think about printer service. Printers have maintenance schedules and run longer when properly maintained. Run a test page to check your page count. Most laser printers have the maintenance information on this page. You can also call us with your page count and we can tell you what maintenance is needed. Servicing your printer is a vital part of its lifespan. When we use our printer we never think about getting it cleaned or serviced unless something goes wrong. A dirty printer can cause print defects or may factor into them. We offer many different services for printer repair and cleaning. When we find out how you use your printer then we can determine your level of service. Once we find out your needs then we can make a recommendation on how often to clean the printers or if maintenance is required. Your printer manual will tell you when maintenance intervals occur.

Remember to call Custom Office Products with your printer problems, some we can help you fix over the phone.
